Detailed Action

1. This action is in response to the application filed 11/08/04.
2. Claims 1 – 3, 5 – 7 & 9,10,12, 14 –24 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

4. Claims 1 – 3, 5, 21 & 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mills USPN 6,055,560.

Regarding claim 1, Mills anticipates, a method A television set-top terminal (FIG1, set top box. 108), comprising:

a computer readable, medium having computer program code (2:55 – 57) ; and means for executing said computer program code to implement an Application Programming Interface (API) wherein (FIG. 2, API 152 and at 5:30 – 32);

application data which defines applications is recovered at the terminal according to locators associated with the applications (5:57-64, see panel stacking and back track (recover));

the applications are registered and installed at the terminal (8:2-6, see install and download);

the API enables running and subsequent stopping of the applications (6:5-10, see stop button); and the API enables the retrieval of the applications as broadcasts software applications (4:60 – 65, see queue and broadcast, also see 8:15 – 20 for retrieving);

the API enables pausing of the applications once they are running, and subsequent resuming of the applications (5:10 – 15, see suspension and resume).

Art Unit: 2122

Regarding claim 2, the terminal of claim 1, wherein: a user is notified of the presence of the applications after registration and installation thereof (Col. 19: 23 – 25).

Regarding claim 3, the terminal of claim 1, wherein: said API enables the retrieval of the applications as downloadable software applications (8:3 – 6, see “retrieves appropriate panels to download”).

Regarding claim 5, the terminal of claim 1, wherein:

said API is independent of an operating system and hardware of the terminal (5:32 – 36, see “ without knowing the database language or which type of database is being used...).

Regarding claim 21, the method version of claim 1, see rationale as previously discussed above.

Regarding claim 22, the method version of claim 2, see rationale as previously discussed above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 6,7, 9, 10, 12,14 – 20, 23 & 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mills USPN 6,055,560 in view of Anandakumar et al. USPN 6,574,213 B1.

Regarding claim 6, Mills discloses a television set-top terminal (FIG.5, 108), comprising:

a computer readable medium having computer program code (2:55 – 57); and means for executing said computer program code to implement an Application Programming Interface (API) wherein:

application data which defines applications is recovered at the terminal according to locators associated with the applications (5:57-64, see panel stacking and back track (recover));

the applications are registered and installed at the terminal (8:2-6, see install and download); and the API enables particular ones of the applications to advertise their respective states to other applications (5:20 – 25). Mills doesn't explicitly disclose providing an ITU-T X.731 based mechanism for monitoring and controlling the applications, wherein said ITU-TX.731 is an international standard which defines management states, status codes and state transitions for manageable objects, although he does disclose a telecommunication system utilizing X. 25 an earlier standard. Anandakumar does however in an analogous art disclose providing improvements to packing network environments including the ITU standards. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine Mills and Anandakumar because, using the ITU-TX. 371 standard would make the system more compatible.

Regarding claim 7, the terminal of claim 6, wherein:

a user is notified of the presence of the applications after registration and installation thereof (Mills, 5:20 – 25, see current state).

Regarding claim 9, the terminal of claim 6, wherein:

said API enables at least one of the other applications to access the advertised state of at least one of the particular advertising applications (Mills, 5:20 – 25, see current state).

Regarding claim 10, the terminal of claim 6, wherein:

said API enables retrieval of version information associated with the applications (Mills, 8:1 – 5, see matching and retrieving appropriate panels to download).

Art Unit: 2122

Regarding claim 12, the terminal of claim 6, wherein: API enables verification of the integrity of all of the applications (Mills, 15:5 – 10, see “set top enabling code verifies”).

Regarding claim 14, the terminal of claim 6, wherein:

said API enables administrative locking and unlocking of the applications (Mills, 8:62 – 67, see lock bit).

Regarding claim 15, the terminal of claim 6, wherein:

said API enables particular ones of the applications to advertise respective alarm statuses thereof to other ones of the applications (Mills, 7: 12 – 15, see “ video information is then provided to the set top box 108 for purpose of display on the television 106”).

Regarding claim 16, the terminal of claim 6, wherein:

said API enables particular ones of the applications to advertise respective availability statuses thereof to other ones of the applications (Mills, 5:20 – 25, see current state).

Regarding claim 17, the terminal of claim 6, wherein:

said API enables particular ones of the applications to advertise respective procedural statuses thereof to other ones of the applications (Mills, 7: 12 – 15, see “ video information is then provided to the set top box 108 for purpose of display on the television 106”).

Regarding claim 18, the terminal of claim 6, wherein:

said API enables particular ones of the applications to advertise respective operational states thereof to other ones of the applications Mills, 7: 12 – 15, see “ video information is then provided to the set top box 108 for purpose of display on the television 106”).

Regarding claim 19, the terminal of claim 6, wherein:

said API enables particular ones of the applications to advertise respective administrative states thereof to other ones of the applications (Mills, 7: 12 – 15, see “ video information is then provided to the set top box 108 for purpose of display on the television 106”).

Art Unit: 2122

Regarding claim 20, the terminal of claim 6, wherein:

said API enables particular ones of the applications to advertise respective usage states thereof to other ones of the applications (Mills, 5:20 – 25).

Regarding claim 23, the method version of claim 6, see rationale as previously discussed above.

Regarding claim 24, the method version of claim 7, see rationale as previously discussed above.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments, see page 2, 3rd paragraph of response, filed 11/08/2004, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1 – 3, 5 – 7 & 9, 10, 12, 14 – 24 under 35 U.S.C. 102(e), and 103(a) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Mills USPN 6,055,560.
